Hi Yuxin! I really like the changes and progress you made; it looks amazing! I think just a few small tweaks will work well here:

- Giving more margins to the bubble text, specifically the second one, so that there's more space around the words in the bubbles will feel more balanced. It would make the site feel balanced to see the second bubble on the right side instead, also.
- Instead of doing a box around the subheadings, maybe try doing all-caps or all-lowercase?
- Add sources at the footer (Wikipedia), as well as our names.
- I like your new page title especially! When you get the chance, see if you can include glow hover effects.
- For the navigation, the text contrast is a bit low; maybe try making it a darker gray that glows blue when hovered and turns the text blue when active or on its page.

Overall, you've made great changes and I can't wait to see what interactive effects you'll incorporate!
